United States of America	03/06/2025	G/TBT/N/USA/2201	Proposed Framework Regulation Amendment: Clarifying Compliance Options for Importers	Proposed rule - On 23 May 2025, the Department of Toxic Substances Control (DTSC) initiated rulemaking to clarify compliance options for importers under the Safer Consumer Products (SCP) Regulations. The proposed amendments detail the ways in which importers can comply with the SCP Regulations when required to do so in the event that a product manufacturer fails to comply with a Priority Product listing. The proposed regulatory amendments are necessary because the current SCP Regulations do not clearly identify compliance options for importers. The proposed regulatory amendments aim to provide clarity and support the predictable implementation of the SCP Regulations. Importers do not need to take any action as a result of this rulemaking. United States of America	04/06/2025	G/TBT/N/USA/2066/Add.3	Zero-Emission Forklift Regulation	The purpose of this advisory is to notify the public on California Air Resources Board's (CARB) implementation of the Zero-Emission Forklift (ZEF) regulation, since CARB has not yet sought authorization from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (U.S. EPA) for the Zero Emission Forklift (ZEF) regulation pursuant to section 209(e)(2)(A) of the Clean Air Act (CAA). Until U.S. EPA grants such authorization or determines authorization is not necessary, CARB staff will not enforce the ZEF regulation against any privately-owned or operated fleets nor against any manufacturers or dealerships. CARB will not enforce the ZEF regulation for acts or omissions by any party that occur prior to U.S. EPA authorization of the ZEF regulation. Because CARB is committed to reducing air pollution to protect public health, we encourage affected industries to continue reducing their emissions and we look forward to continued partnership in these efforts. CARB staff encourages all manufacturers and fleets to voluntarily report in the meantime. Zero-Emission Forklifts (ZEFs) are already widely used and often provide fuel and maintenance cost savings compared to tradition spark-ignition forklifts. The advisory notice contains information on how this directly affects private, state, and local government fleets. Additional information may be found on the ZEF Regulation page. Australia	05/06/2025	G/TBT/N/AUS/142/Add.1	Australia/New Zealand Standard 6400:2016 Water efficient products — Rating and labelling.	This Standard forms a basis for the rating and labelling of a range of products under the mandatory Water Efficiency Labelling and Standards (WELS) scheme, as required by the Australian Water Efficiency Labelling and Standards Act 2005 (Cth) (the WELS Act) and, in New Zealand, the Consumer Information Standards (Water Efficiency) Regulations. Amendments to the Standard were published on 4 November 2022, to improve the scheme and align the Standard with Australia's National Construction code. The amendments include: introducing minimum water efficiency requirements for plumbing products regulated under the WELS scheme; introduce a minimum water efficiency for dishwashers; require the use of the (WELS) additional label for combination showers; change in colours applied to the 'Not Star Rated' label for showers; changes to 'text advice' text that can be used in place of the WELS label in the supply chain (primarily in supply advertising); add guidance for displaying WELS information in building development supply advertising; and Consumer information, labelling. The standard amendments came into force on 21 February 2025 with amendment of the Water Efficiency Labelling and Standards Determination 2013 (No. 2) - Federal Register of Legislation by reference to the Standard as published on 4 November 2022. United States of America	10/06/2025	G/TBT/N/USA/2209	Facilitating Implementation of Next Generation 911 Services (NG911); Improving 911 Reliability	Proposed rule - In this document, the Federal Communications Commission (the FCC or Commission) proposes rules that would help ensure that emerging Next Generation 911 (NG911) networks are reliable and interoperable. NG911 is replacing legacy 911 technology across the country with Internet Protocol (IP)-based infrastructure that will support new 911 capabilities, including text, video, and data. However, for NG911 to be fully effective, NG911 networks must safeguard the reliability of critical components and support the interoperability needed to seamlessly transfer 911 calls and data from one network to another. When the Commission first adopted 911 reliability rules in 2013, the transition to NG911 was in its very early stages. Since then, many state and local 911 authorities have made significant progress in deploying NG911 capabilities in their jurisdictions. This Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (FNPRM) is the next step in fulfilling the Commission's commitment to facilitate the NG911 transition and to ensure that the transition does not inadvertently create vulnerabilities in the nation's critical public safety networks. The FNPRM proposes to update the definition of "covered 911 service provider" in the Commission's existing 911 reliability rules to ensure that the rules apply to service providers that control or operate critical pathways and components in NG911 networks. It also proposes to update the reliability standards for providers of critical NG911 functions to ensure the reliable delivery of 911 traffic to NG911 delivery points, and proposes to establish NG911 interoperability requirements for interstate transfer of 911 traffic between Emergency Services IP Networks (ESInets). In addition, the FNPRM proposes to modify the certification and oversight mechanisms in the current 911 reliability rules to improve reliability and interoperability in NG911 systems while minimizing burdens on service providers, and proposes to	911 services and networks; Quality (ICS code(s): 03.120); Telecommunication services. United States of America	10/06/2025	G/TBT/N/USA/2208	Dibutyl Phthalate (DBP) and Diethylhexyl Phthalate (DEHP); Draft Risk Evaluations Under the Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA); Notice of Availability and Request for Comment	Notice of availability and request for comment - The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA or Agency) is announcing the availability of and seeking public comment on the draft risk evaluations under the Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA) for Dibutyl Phthalate (DBP) (CASRN 84-74-2) and Diethylhexyl Phthalate (DEHP) (CASRN 117-81-7). The purpose of risk evaluations under TSCA is to determine whether a chemical substance presents an unreasonable risk of injury to health or the environment under the conditions of use, including unreasonable risk to potentially exposed or susceptible subpopulations identified as relevant to the risk evaluation by EPA, and without consideration of costs or non-risk factors. EPA used the best available science to prepare this draft risk evaluation and to preliminarily determine, based on the weight of scientific evidence, that DBP and DEHP present unreasonable risk to health and the environment driven primarily by certain conditions of use analyzed in the draft evaluations. United States of America	12/06/2025	G/TBT/N/USA/2214	Parts and Accessories Necessary for Safe Operation; Retroreflective Sheeting on Semitrailers and Trailers	Notice of proposed rulemaking - The Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) proposes to rescind the requirements for retroreflective sheeting on semitrailers and trailers manufactured prior to 1 December 1993, which is the compliance date for the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration's (NHTSA) conspicuity rules applicable to trailer manufacturers. The retrofitting requirements were adopted by the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) on 31 March 1999, and require that motor carriers engaged in interstate commerce install retroreflective tape or reflex reflectors on the sides and rear of semitrailers and trailers that were manufactured prior to 1 December 1993, have an overall width of 2,032 mm (80 inches) or more, and a gross vehicle weight rating of 4,536 kg (10,001 pounds) or more. With the passage of more than 30 years since the NHTSA requirements were implemented, FMCSA believes the vast majority of trailers currently in use on the Nation's highways were manufactured after 1993 so the retrofitting rule is no longer necessary. This proposal would eliminate obsolete regulatory text without compromising safety. United States of America	12/06/2025	G/TBT/N/USA/1684/Rev.1	Parts and Accessories Necessary for Safe Operation; Certification and Labeling Requirements for Rear Impact Protection Guards	Notice of proposed rulemaking - The Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) proposes to amend the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Regulations (FMCSRs) to rescind the requirement that the rear impact guard be permanently marked or labeled with a certification from the impact guard manufacturer as required by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration's (NHTSA) applicable Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard (FMVSS). The certification label or marking provides motor carriers purchasing new trailers or new impact guards to replace damaged devices with a means to determine whether the equipment is certified as meeting the FMVSS. However, the labeling or marking requirement has proven problematic for motor carriers when the label or marking becomes illegible or wears off during the service life of the trailer or guard. This proposal would eliminate an unintended regulatory burden on motor carriers without compromising safety, as this NPRM would not affect the applicable FMVSS. The proposal would also rescind a guidance document pertaining to illegible, incomplete, or missing rear impact guard certification labels. The SNURs require persons to notify EPA at least 90 days before commencing the manufacture (defined by statute to include import) or processing of any of these chemical substances for an activity that is designated as a significant new use in the SNUR. The required notification initiates EPA's evaluation of the conditions of that use for that chemical substance. In addition, the manufacture or processing for the significant new use may not commence until EPA has conducted a review of the required notification, made an appropriate determination regarding that notification, and taken such actions as required by that determination. Chinese Taipei	17/06/2025	G/TBT/N/TPKM/562	Draft Amendments to the Resource Recycling Act	The Resource Recycling Act (hereinafter referred to as "this Act") was enacted and promulgated on July 3, 2002, and came into effect one year after promulgation. It was subsequently amended and enforced on January 21, 2009. In view of the severe challenges posed by the current global resource crisis and climate change, the international community generally regards "resource circulation" as a key approach to achieving the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and fulfilling net-zero emission commitments. In order to align with international standards and address the needs of sustainable development, the Ministry of Environment considers it necessary to establish an enabling environment for the promotion of resource circulation and to strengthen the relevant legal framework. The policy objective is to shift from the current focus on end-of-pipe waste recycling and treatment toward full life-cycle resource circulation, thereby achieving "maximization of resource circulation benefits and minimization of final waste disposal." The specific directions of this amendment include: formulating a national integrated resource circulation plan; establishing a Resource Circulation Promotion Council; setting forth green design guidelines; promoting the use of recycled materials (including recycled aggregates) in products and construction; implementing source reduction measures and restrictions or bans on certain materials; extending product lifespans; introducing digital product tracking; prioritizing green procurement by public agencies; providing incentives and subsidies; designating land for resource circulation purposes; promoting circular financing and investment mechanisms; and establishing a resource circulation experimental sandbox. Accordingly, this draft amendment to the Act has been prepared, and the title of the Act is proposed to be revised as the "Resource Circulation Promotion Act."	Information and communication technology (ICT) products, electrical and electronic equipment, batteries, textiles, vehicles, tires, packaging, and containers.

Switzerland	17/06/2025	G/TBT/N/CHE/296	Amendment to the Federal Law of 21 March 2003 relating to Non-human Gene Technology	Switzerland has adopted in a referendum in November 2005 a moratorium on the cultivation of genetically modified organisms (GMOs) in Switzerland. Since its introduction, this moratorium has been renewed several times, the last time until 31 December 2025 (see notification G/TBT/N/CHE/252). According to art. 37a of the Federal Act on Non-Human Gene Technology, "licenses for placing on the market of genetically modified plants and parts thereof, of genetically modified seeds and other reproductive plant material, and of genetically modified animals shall not be granted for agricultural, horticultural or sylvicultural purposes for the period until 31 December 2025". The moratorium does not cover research activities (including field releases of GM plants, authorized and supervised by the competent authorities) with GMOs nor the placing on the market of food, feed, drugs, etc. consisting of or containing GMOs. A parliamentary initiative from September 2024 proposed to renew the moratorium until 31 December 2027 (report available in frenchgerman and Italian). The Federal Council proposed to renew the moratorium until 31 December 2030 (statement available in frenchgerman and Italian). Both parliament chambers subsequently approved the Federal Council's proposal. The final vote in the parliament chambers is scheduled for 20 June 2025. More information on this parliamentary business (including press releases) is available on the website of the Federal Assembly in frenchgerman and ItalianThe reason for this extension is the ongoing work on a new act on plants obtained by new genomic techniques. A draft act is currently in public consultation (available in frenchgerman or Italian). The new act aims at introducing a risk-based authorisation regime for plants obtained by new genomic techniques, while also the uncertainty that persists concerning mandatory coexistence between GMOs and non-GMOs, the legal status of organisms obtained by new genomic techniques and risks management measures of the latter organisms shall be resolved. Simultaneously to the entering into force of this new act, the moratorium shall be lifted for plants obtained from new genomic techniques. The draft act will be subject to a separate WTO TBT notification. The moratorium does not cover research activities (including field releases of GM plants, authorized and supervised by the competent authorities) with GMOs nor the placing on the market of food, feed, drugs, etc. consisting of or containing GMOs. Ukraine	17/06/2025	G/TBT/N/UKR/346	Draft Order of the Ministry of Agrarian Policy and Food of Ukraine "On Approval of Minimum Requirements for Mixed Fruits in Syrup and/or in Natural Fruit Juice"	The draft Order provides for approval of Minimum Requirements for mixed fruit in syrup and/or natural fruit juice with the aim of ensuring that consumers are properly informed about the characteristics of the food product, including its labeling, and of preventing business practices that may mislead consumers. These Requirements establish minimum quality requirements that mixed fruit in syrup and/or natural fruit juice must comply with. The term "mixed fruit" refers to a food product made from a mixture of fresh peaches and pears of the Williams and Rocha varieties, filled with sugar syrup and/or natural fruit juice, thermally processed, and hermetically sealed. The draft Order also stipulates that mixed fruits that do not comply with Minimum Requirements for mixed fruits in syrup and/or natural fruit juice approved by this Order may be produced and/or placed on the market for three years from the date this Order enters into force. Such food products may remain in circulation until their expiration date or the end of their minimum shelf life.	mixed fruits

United States of America	25/06/2025	G/TBT/N/USA/1837/Rev.2	National Emission Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants: Coal- and Oil-Fired Electric Utility Steam Generating Units	Proposed rule - In this action, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is proposing to repeal specific amendments to the National Emission Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants (NESHAP) for Coal- and Oil-Fired Electric Utility Steam Generating Units (EGUs), commonly referred to as the Mercury and Air Toxics Standards (MATS), that were promulgated on 7 May 2024 (notified as G/TBT/N/USA/1837/Rev.1/Add.1). The amendments that the EPA is proposing to repeal include the revised filterable particulate matter (FPM) emission standard, which serves as a surrogate for non-mercury hazardous air pollutant (HAP) metals for existing coal-fired EGUs; the revised FPM emission standard compliance demonstration requirements; and the revised mercury (Hg) emission standard for lignite-fired EGUs. United States of America	25/06/2025	G/TBT/N/USA/2218	Advanced Clean Trucks Pooling Amendments	California Air Resources Board (CARB) Proposed Amendments to the Advanced Clean Trucks Regulation and the Zero-Emission Powertrain Certification Test Procedure - The proposed amendments to the ACT regulation include the following modifications: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Add an option for manufacturers to use surplus ZEV and near zero emission vehicle (NZEV) credits generated in one state that has adopted the ACT regulation to assist with meeting their ACT compliance obligations in another state. The proposed pooling flexibility implements a declining annual credit transfer allowance for the 2027 through 2031 model years that dictates how many credits can be transferred in a given year into a state with a deficit. These allowances would begin at 20% in 2027 and decrease by 2% each year, reaching 12% in 2031. The credit transfer allowance would then be constant at 10% for the 2032 through 2035 model years.</li> <li>• Modify the Low Tractor Volume provision to permit manufacturers to offset a portion of deficits generated in the Class 7-8 tractor group with Class 2b-3 or Class 4-8 group ZEV credits for each model year.</li> <li>• Decrease the minimum all-electric range threshold for NZEVs after the 2030 model year.</li> <li>• Provide manufacturers increased flexibility with respect to the order in which they retire ZEV credits.</li> <li>• Modify the communication protocols with respect to the ZEV connector criteria in the ZEP Certification regulation.</li> </ul> On 19 December 2018, the Government of El Salvador notified, in document G/TBT/N/SLV/203, draft Salvadoran Technical Regulation RTS 01.02.01:18: Metrology. United States of America	25/06/2025	G/TBT/N/USA/2220	Repeal of Greenhouse Gas Emissions Standards for Fossil Fuel-Fired Electric Generating Units	Proposed rule - In this action, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is proposing to repeal all greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions standards for fossil fuel-fired power plants. The EPA is proposing that the Clean Air Act (CAA) requires it to make a finding that GHG emissions from fossil fuel-fired power plants contribute significantly to dangerous air pollution, as a predicate to regulating GHG emissions from those plants. The EPA is further proposing to make a finding that GHG emissions from fossil fuel-fired power plants do not contribute significantly to dangerous air pollution. The EPA is also proposing, as an alternative, to repeal a narrower set of requirements that includes the emission guidelines for existing fossil fuel-fired steam generating units, the carbon capture and sequestration/storage (CCS)-based standards for coal-fired steam generating units undertaking a large modification, and the CCS-based standards for new base load stationary combustion turbines. EPA is proposing the applicable volumes and percentage standards for 2026 and 2027 for cellulosic biofuel, biomass-based diesel (BBD), advanced biofuel, and total renewable fuel. EPA is also proposing to partially waive the 2025 cellulosic biofuel volume requirement and revise the associated percentage standard due to a shortfall in cellulosic biofuel production. Finally, EPA is proposing several regulatory changes to the RFS program, including reducing the number of Renewable Identification Numbers (RINs) generated for imported renewable fuel and renewable fuel produced from foreign feedstocks and removing renewable electricity as a qualifying renewable fuel under the RFS program (eRINs). United States of America	27/06/2025	G/TBT/N/USA/2164/Add.1	Significant New Use Rules on Certain Chemical Substances (24-2.5e)	The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is issuing significant new use rules (SNURs) under the Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA) for certain chemical substances that were the subject of premanufacture notices (PMNs) and are also subject to an Order issued by EPA pursuant to TSCA. The SNURs require persons to notify EPA at least 90 days before commencing the manufacture (defined by statute to include import) or processing of any of these chemical substances for an activity that is designated as a significant new use in the SNUR. The required notification initiates EPA's evaluation of the conditions of that use for that chemical substance. In addition, the manufacture or processing for the significant new use may not commence until EPA has conducted a review of the required notification; made an appropriate determination regarding that notification; and taken such actions as required by that determination. This rule is effective on 22 August 2025. Japan	27/06/2025	G/TBT/N/JPN/867	Overview of proposed Partial Revision to the Food Labelling Standards regarding the Food Labelling Act	In Foods with Function Claims, labelling that emphasizes ingredients (Ingredient A has been added, Ingredient B has not been added or Ingredient C is not included, etc.) is restricted by the provisions of the Food Labelling Standards except for functional ingredients. However, since labelling, that emphasizes a certain ingredient is not contained or added, etc, contributes to the appropriate selection of food by consumers and is unlikely to cause misidentification by consumers, it will become to be displayed on containers and packaging in the same way as other general food products. On the other hand, terms that emphasize the inclusion of ingredients other than those related to the notified functionality will continue to be prohibited from labelling, except for the nutritional ingredients stipulated in Appendix 9 of the Food Labelling Standards.	Foods with Function Claims
